

I AM A JALUO

by Elisha.O.Alal

The Votive Manifesto

This invocation is a strategic reclamation of the primordial African legacy and the indomitable continental spirit done in English and Luo. It stands as a rhythmic tribute to the African diaspora—a sonic testament offered in profound veneration of my progenitor, OGUNNA Alal Wilson, and the sacrificial fortitude of my mother, AKUMU Anthoninah Alal, who together nurtured a lineage of seven through the crucible of systemic hardship.

This work is a declaration of ontological integrity: an unapologetic exaltation of the Afrique d'Afrique aesthetics and cultural sovereignty. I reject the sedative of cultural assimilation, choosing instead the dialectic of progressive values rooted in immutable origins. It is a clarion call for Africa to pivot toward the realization of her latent hegemony and a mandate for the nascent African mind to discard the shroud of trepidation. Be bold Africa; operate with non-conformist sovereignty. Rise as the distilled manifestation of a true, unyielding self.

I am, a Jaluo, a man with vision bold,
An sibuor, Nyakwar Ramogi, I emerge,
In Thim Lich Oinga, where shadows tear,
Where baboons chirp, and the night submerges,
A land where darkness reigns with thick sharp rays of the sun.
An sibuor, liech kibuogi, the fearless offspring of the great Ramogi

I am, a Jaluo, a man with vision bold,
I am, the offspring of Migori's wild, untamed soil,
Where whispers haunt and silence fills the air,
From cursed woods to lands where light uncoils,
I bear Ramogi's blood, a legacy rare.
An sibuor, liech kibuogi, the fearless offspring of the great Ramogi

In the Maasai vast and endless stretch of night,
Where lions roam and mighty spirits roam,
A Moran I am,in cattle's steady grace I graze,
And in their glow, my deepest courage lies.
An sibuor, liech kibuogi, the fearless offspring of the great Ramogi

I am, a Jaluo, a man with vision bold,
I am, the link 'twixt rich and poor,
A painter who strives to mend the broken seam,

In every stroke, I forge a dream, with pi a cure,
Where wealth and want may walk in mutual esteem.
An sibuor, liech kibuogi,the fearless offspring of the great Ramogi

I am, a Jaluo, a man with vision bold,
I am, the voice where lads and lasses unite,
In harmony, we learn to laugh, to cry,
For in our hearts, the future burns so bright,
Nikech wanyalo, together we shall reach the endless sky
An sibuor, liech kibuogi, the fearless offspring of the great Ramogi

I am, a Jaluo, a man with vision bold,
I am, the hand that paints both shade and light,
In colors drawn from struggle, strength, and grace,
I find in darkness a glowing spark so bright,
A truth that binds all people, every place.
An sibuor, liech kibuogi, the fearless offspring of the great Ramogi

I am, a Jaluo, a man with vision bold,
I am, a lover of the Holy Ghost and the holy Bible,
Through tempest fierce, I carve a steady way,
In every clash, I seek the hidden life,
A world reborn through unity's pure sway.
An sibuor, liech kibuogi, the fearless offspring of the great Ramogi

I am, a Jaluo, a man with vision bold,
I am, the spirit who defies the dark,
With courage forged in shadows none can see,
From depths of fear, I rise with soaring spark,
And paint a future where all hearts are free.
An sibuor, liech kibuogi, the fearless offspring of the great Ramogi

I am, a Jaluo, a man with vision bold,
From Thim Lich's nightmare to a land of peace,
I craft a world where hope and love unfold,
A canvas vast, united, full of release.
An sibuor, liech kibuogi, the fearless offspring of the great Ramogi

I am Ochieng' Elisha Alal, the son of the great Alal Oguna.
